

SuccessMaker At-Home Parent Guidelines

If your child is taking sessions in SuccessMaker courses at home, the following guidelines can help ensure your child's success:

- Provide an appropriate environment by minimizing distractions that might interfere with learning.
- If your child asks you the answer to an exercise, rather than providing the correct answer, ask the child to do the following:
  - Use the resources within the course software (Glossary, Toolbox, and Help) to gain an understanding of the concept being presented.
  - Answer the exercise to the best of his or her ability. Many of the programs are designed to provide automatic tutorials when the student misses a predetermined number of exercises.
  - When the session has finished, explain the concept(s) presented to your child.
- Print Student Summary Reports regularly and work with the teacher to provide offline assistance with the content that your child is finding difficult.
